Dear Families,

Increasingly we see young children engaging with their peers through various social media. While not denying that the use of social media apps can be an excellent avenue of communication through sharing comments, photos, messages etc, young children don't always understand the protocols around its use. More than ever before, schools are expected to deal with the 'fall out' from inappropriate and insensitive comments and posts placed by some children about their peers.

Young children often lack the social and emotional maturity to understand the impact of various social media apps. What might seem funny (or even harmless) at the time can often be misinterpreted and become upsetting, hurtful or offensive to those at whom it is directed. It is very difficult for us to deal with what is essentially happening outside the school. A child's first and most important educators are his or her parents, and so I urge you all to monitor closely the use of social media at home. Our School Counsellor has included more information about social media use later in this newsletter, particularly the age restrictions that are associated with many social media apps.

FROM THE REC

Station 7 – Jesus falls a second time.

Jesus is tired, losing all His strength, not wanting to take another step. However... He keeps walking, taking another step, carrying His cross until Jesus falls again.

How do you feel really tired? Like you can't go on...

How do you feel standing at this station? Do you feel Jesus' exhaustion and sadness?

We all have things in life we find difficult. Perhaps they are physically hard, or maybe we don't know where to start. Do you keep trying? Or do you give up?

Jesus knows we find this hard but He's ready to help us. We need to stand at the station and ask for help, strength and peace.

Station 8 – Jesus meets the women of Jerusalem

Jesus gets up, takes up His cross again and continues on the road. He passes the crowds along the road and then, He sees a group of women crying. He knows their tears are because of Him. Jesus goes towards the women and speaks to them.

How do you feel as you stand at this station? Do you feel the sadness of the women? Do you feel Jesus' love for these women?

When we are sad or stressed or worried, it can be easy to only think of ourselves. Jesus shows us that we should think about others. Jesus us shows us to have hope.

Ask Jesus to help you when you are sad for yourself. Ask Him to show you others who need your help.

Station 9 – Jesus falls the third time

Jesus was tired, exhausted, barely walking, stumbling, finding it hard to breathe. He falls again. Now Jesus asks God for help, for strength, courage, energy to get up. God answers and Jesus gets up again.

How do you feel as you stand at this station? Do you feel the exhaustion, desperation, His cry for help?

Ask God to be there when you need His help and ask Him to remind you to ask when you feel desperate.

Station 10 – Jesus is stripped of His garments

Jesus is finally at the hill where He will die. The horror is coming to an end. But the soldiers have plans in store. They steal all his clothes, but He is not alone; this is what He clings to.

How do you feel as you stand at this station? Do you cling to your things? Are your clothes important? What about your toys and devices?

Could you easily have everything stripped away from you? Are you jealous of what others have? Are you able to appreciate what you have? Ask Jesus to be with you and help you to value your things less than people and God.

I would like to thank the Saliba and Portelli families as well as our 4 School Captains for all the work they put into raising money for Project Compassion this year. Between them and with your support, they have raised $659.50! This will be added to the money collected in class and at the canteen. Thank you to all who have placed the needs of others before their own needs. Well done everyone.

Children and cyberspace.....

Parents sometimes question what's best for their children in the fast-changing world of technology.

The Office of the Children's eSafety Commissioner looks at the question.....

Is there an age limit for kids on social media?

Most social media services and apps require users to be 13 years old to join.

What about APPS? App stores set their own age ratings based on the app's content.

Natasha Burgert, a paediatrician, offers three reasons for not allowing children to start using social media before the set age limit:

* Kids know the U13 rule. So, if you, as a parent, falsify your child's age to create an account, you are actively providing a foundational example that is it OK to lie on the internet.

*Children U13 do not have the intellectual or emotional maturity to handle many social media themes. Pre-teens are also increasingly becoming victims of online harassment, solicitation, and cyberbullying.

*For children U13, there are safer alternatives. Learning how to navigate and interact on social media sites is an important skill set. Reviews of responsible pre-teen social network options is provided by Common Sense Media.
